CHICAGO, September 3.-A special cablegram to the Tribune announces that Paul O. Stensland, president of the Milwaukee Avenue State Bank, was captured today in Stensland, according to a cable dispatch this morning, left Gibraltar for the eastern coast of Africa at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, just an hour and forty minutes before the representative of the Tribune and Assistant State's Attorney Harry Olsen arrived, after trailing him from America to England, thence to Gibraltar, to Tangier, Morocco, back to Gibraltar, and thence to Ronda, where he saw a bull fight, to Bobadella, Granada, Seville and other Spanish towns.

He was traveling under the alias of P. Olsen of Norway.

The paper says that Mr. Gummere, American minister to Morocco, was on the outlook, and the moment he received instructions from the State Department he would send a detail of the sultan's soldiers to Stensland, the dispatch says, chose Morocco as a place of permanent residence because there is no extradition treaty with that country. The sultan at Fez, however, will do anything for President Roosevelt. The matter of throwing a man in jail and keeping him there indefinitely is so small a request that it is granted before it is

"If Stensland decides to return peaceably," the Tribune dispatch continues, "well and good. Otherwise one of the States warships that will be in Gibraltar in ten days probably will cross to Tangler, the fugitive will be thrown on board and headed for America. Arrested This Morning. Stensland was arrested at 8 o'clock this morning by the Tribune representative and Assistant States Attorney Harry Olsen of Chicago in the English post office. Stensland agreed to return peaceably. Assistant States Attorney Barbour received a cable gram today that Paul O. Stensland had been arrested in Tangier, Morocco.

"It was the old story of a woman scorned that led to the finding of Stens land's trail. One of his numerous friends, who thought she had been shabbily treated. put the Tribune in possession of the first hint as to the fugitive's whereabouts. Her Information was indefinite, but investigation proved its probable accuracy. Finally, on August 13, it became certain that he was in Tangier, and had been for sixteen days. He fled from Chicago on Sunday July 12, went direct to New York and took the White Star boat, sailing on Tuesday for Liverpool, and stayed in that town two days. Stensland then took the P. & O. boat for Gibraltar. There he took the boat for Tangier."

Story of the Chase.

A representative of the Tribune was sent to State's Attorney Healey, who at that time was in the east. The request was made that a representative of the state's attorney's office be permitted to accompany the Tribune representative on the quest for the fugitive. Mr. Healey agreed and sent Assistant State's Attorney Olson. It was ascertained that Stensland had fled from Chicago on July 12, gone directly to New Star line for Liverpool. He remained in that city for two days and then took a steamer for Gibraltar, which he reached July 27. From there he took a boat for

The Tribune correspondent and Assistant State's Attorney Olson were hot on his trail and arrived in Tangier about one hour after he left it for a trip to the east cost of It was ascertained that he had believing that he would soon return the two men decided to await him there. Greatest Fleet of War Vessels Ever Assembled in the Waters of the Western World.

An auspicious event in our naval circles transpired at Ovster Bay today when President Roosevelt reviewed the greatest fleet of American warships ever assembled at one

A new departure in reviewing the ships was observed in the formation of the vessels in three long lines, around and between which the President's vessel, the Mayflower, passed, while the 15,000 white-clad jackies mingled their cheers with the deepening roar of over 1,100 big cannons. It was a great day for Uncle Sam and his mighty navy.

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., September. 3 .- A salute of twenty-one guns fired simultaneously by every fighting craft in a mighty fleet of two score warships greeted President Roosevelt when he stepped on board the naval vacht Mayflower today to review what is believed to be the largest war fleet that ever assembled in American waters. When the President stepped on board the Mayflower the great fleet lay in three columns, each about two miles in length, with battleships and monitors in the center column, the cruisers and several other battleships in the offshore column and a long line of torpedo destroyers stretched between the circling the entire fleet was a cordon of cutters making a picket line for the exclusion of the excursion boats. Dull and lowering skies, with fitful showers of rain sweeping across the sound, threatened to rob the display of much of its beauty and cast a serious damper over the enthusiasm of the thousands of spectators who were gathering to witness it in every manner of craft conceivable.

Half an hour before the arrival of the President Secretary of the Navy Bonaparte boarded the Mayflower and was received with a salute by the Marine Guard and the ruffles of the drums. Following him came Postmaster General Cortelyou, who was also honored on the quarterdeck. The naval attaches representing foreign governments came on board the Des Moines and were transferred to the Mayflower in launches. As they reached the gangway there was more saluting. Members of the naval committees of Congress were also taken on board the Mayflower as gues's of the President during the re-

Evans on board, lay in the central position at the head of the fleet. The Dolphin and Des Moines took up their positions, respectively, at the head of the third and first columns, and the Mayflower passed down between the long lines of warships while the roar of the President's salute of twenty-one guns again burst from the 3-inch guns of each warship as the Mayflower swept majestically past. Each ship in turn, with sailors manning her yards and guns sounding, paid tribute of honor to the commander-in-chief as the yacht passed up and down through the two lanes made by the formation of the fleet, and then having circled entirely about them anchored at the position of honor at the head of the central column. While the review was taking place the clouds began to roll away, and before it was finished the sun broke through and brought all the splendor of the great white warships and long black torpedo destroyers which went to make up the mightiest fleet that the United States has ever assembled. Greatest Assembly of Ships. President Roosevelt reviewed today the greatest fleet of fighting ships ever assembled under the Americanu flag.

Three long columns of men-of-war have tugged their anchors in the waters of Long Island sound since noon yesterday. Thirtyfive vessels are all within range of Sagamore Hill and could train one thousand one hundred and seventy guns on the summer residence of President Roosevelt. Instead, they will roar out to him a tremendous salute as he comes among them on his flagship, the Mayflower, and tonight they will paint the hieroglyphics of peace on the sky with their searchlights for his edification. The day of the review opened overcast and stormy with intervals of hard rain driven before stiff but variable winds. The disappointing weather conditions were not allowed to interfere with any detail of the program, however, and apparently had no effect upon the crowd which gathered to witness the imposing spectacle.

President Roosevelt did not mind the weather in the least, as he demonstrated during the downpour which marked the delivery of his Fourth of July address to the citizens of Oyster Pay.
